"...so much soul you think she'd been signed by Motown" Q Magazine

When: Saturday 19 October 8.00pm

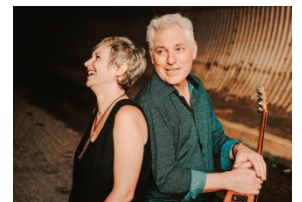

What: CHRISTINE COLLISTER & MICHAEL FIX

The amazing singer Christine Collister paid her dues on the British club scene before becoming vocalist in the Richard Thompson band (and becoming well-known for singing the theme tune to the cult BBC series Life & Loves of a She Devil). She joined Clive Gregson in a duo format, releasing five critically acclaimed albums, before following a solo career, releasing 12 of her own albums. She has graced numerous Thompson recordings and is still his "go to" vocalist for select engagements. Over the years, she has shared the stage with Martin Simpson, Bonnie Raitt, The Bangles, Richard Thompson, Dave Kelly and Loudon Wainwright III.

Australian Michael Fix is widely acclaimed as one of the world's finest acoustic guitarists, mentored during his early career by the legendary Tommy Emmanuel. He has won three Golden Guitars and numerous other awards in Australia, and tours throughout the world. His music is widely heard in TV shows and documentaries and he was named as one of top 20 'Best Australian Guitarists of all time' by readers of Australian Guitar Magazine.

With Christine's sultry, sensuous voice and unsurpassed brilliance in range, combined with Michael's exquisite guitar playing, they create a rare musical synergy, that transcends cultures and musical traditions to enrapture audiences wherever they perform.

"Christine Collister can sing the birds down off the trees and send them back with a tiny flick of her vocal chords." Mojo
