The Churchfitters

A folk-rock band like no other. A double bass made out of a saucepan. Heart-wrenching vocals accompanied by a musical saw or a glass harp. Foot-stompingly fast fiddle mixed with infectious funk-rock rhythms. And traditional tunes reinvigorated with mesmerising jazz sax.

Peter Knight's Gigspanner

John Tams (solo)

A year after his first solo show after the death of his musical partner, Barry Coope, Tams returns to Alstonefield for the first of a two night visit. Tonight he performs solo, as he says "yarn-spinning, breeze-shooting, and a song or two!"

"All the songs and stories you wanted to hear... and a few you didn't." Exchange&Mart" (Arts Correspondent)

Dance night - John Tams' Excelsior Band (aka The Silver Glades Cemetery Avoidance Band)

Dec

"A bit of a do" to celebrate the Christmas season, with perhaps a smattering of barn dances, ceilidh, music from the American Songbook for close dancing, foxtrots, quicksteps, the Twist, the Jive, maybe even a Line-Dance! Music by Tams with Pete Bullock (Albion Band), Derek Pearce (Roaring Jelly) and Terry Loane on keyboard – all members of the original 1970s Excelsior Band!

Eleanor McEvoy

She walks in a single pool of light, the stage set with an electric guitar, an acoustic guitar, violin, piano and a small amp. What follows has been entrancing audiences around the world for decades.

Heidi Talbot (RE-SCHEDULED FROM 2022)

Formerly with US all-girl band, Cherish the Ladies, Irish born Heidi's gossamer voice switches easily between Celtic and Americana, but subtlety is her magic ingredient. Equally at home in front of a Symphony Orchestra, a Performing Arts Center, a Folk Festival or even at the White House, she has worked with Mark Knopfler, Graham Coxon (Blur), Eddi Reader and more.

Bonfire Radicals

This 6 piece band is both intensely creative and irresistibly fun. Expect the unexpected, with global grooves, instrumental fireworks, rich vocal harmonies and delicate a cappella - a melting pot of tunes from the British Isles to the Balkans. Emotive vocals, textural washes, intricate woodwind and contemporary fiddle are woven together over a pulsating backdrop of guitar, bass and drums.
